Nasir Iqbal

Full-Stack Developer (JavaScript & Python) | Tech, Freelancing & Fitness Enthusiast
Islamabad, Islāmābād, Pakistan

Summary

Full-Stack Web Developer | Tech Mentor | Founder of Devthinks LLC

Hello! I'm Nasir Iqbal, a full-stack web developer, tech mentor, and the founder of Devthinks LLC, a tech solutions agency. I started my coding journey in 2019, focusing on scalable, efficient web applications. My core expertise is in backend development with Python and Django, though I also have experience with Node.js. For front-end development, I use ReactJs, Nextjs, HTML5, CSS3, Bootstrap, and Tailwind CSS, along with React Native for building cross-platform mobile applications.

Professional Experience & Mentorship:

As the owner of Devthinks LLC, I've provided customized web solutions to clients across various industries. Additionally, I'm a seasoned Fiverr mentor, specializing in JavaScript and React.js. Over the years, I've had the privilege of teaching 100+ students through one-on-one coaching sessions, helping them gain confidence in coding and achieve their learning goals. My work also involves integrating tools like Firebase, Zapier, and Uploadcare to streamline data management and enhance client operations.

Languages & Cultural Background:

Based in Islamabad with a rich Pathan heritage, I'm fluent in English and Urdu and conversational in Pashto, Hindi, and Punjabi, enabling me to connect with diverse communities and clients worldwide.

Continuous Learning:

Whether it's exploring a new framework, solving a complex problem, or guiding a student through a coding challenge, I'm driven by a passion for growth. If you're looking for a tech-savvy professional dedicated to innovation and client satisfaction, let's connect!

NazaWEb - SaaS Design Studio
Full Stack Web Developer
February 2023 - April 2023 (3 months)
Los Angeles, California, United States

As a Full-Stack Developer and Web3 Coach at Nazaweb, my main responsibility was to host JavaScript/React coaching calls in private NFT workshops hosted by the company.

During my time at Nazaweb, I successfully facilitated several private coaching calls, helping the students/members of the Discord community to improve their JavaScript/React skills and providing them with a deeper understanding of web3 technologies and concepts. I also collaborated on an NFT project, contributing technical expertise and insights that helped to ensure the project's success.

As part of my role, I also assisted with editing content for social media, ensuring that it aligned with Nazaweb's branding and messaging. Through this work, I was able to contribute to the company's overall social media strategy and increase engagement with our target audience.

Working at Nazaweb as a Full-Stack Developer and Web3 Coach was a rewarding experience that allowed me to grow my skills and knowledge in a dynamic and exciting field. I gained valuable experience coaching and supporting a development team, working on NFT projects, and contributing to a company's social media strategy. Overall, my time at Nazaweb was a positive and valuable experience that I will always cherish.
